PAVEEZZI

Innovation & Modern Design

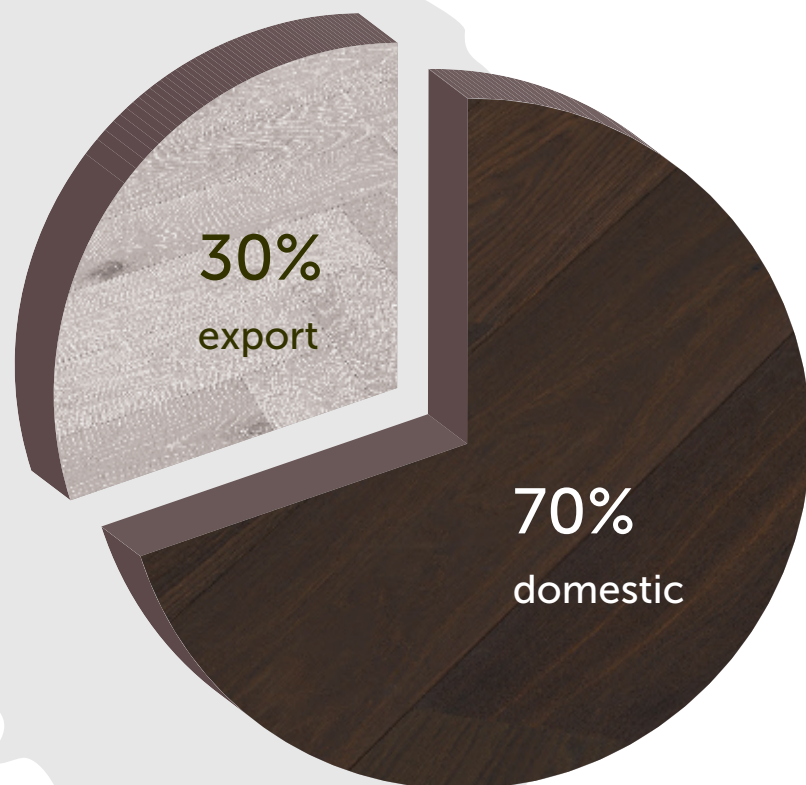

Since 2010 we have focused on developing our products, technology and team. As a result, over the years we have evolved from the small manufacturer of parquet to one of the leading supplier of three-layer & multi-layer engineered floors in Australia. Regardless of the scale on which we operate, we are still guided by the same values. Innovation combined with long-standing experience and modern designs, inspired by traditions, are the basis of our success. We think ambitiously about the future, but are still mindful of our roots.

As a result of our continuous development we offer a broad range of the highest quality parquet and three-layer floors, made from European oak. We focus on quality and production technology, which is why PAVEEZZI is currently one of the most modern in the industry. Our floors are made of FSC®-certified raw materials and we use proven varnishes and oils for their production. We have an extensive sales network, reliable and loyal partners, as well as trusted suppliers. Long-term cooperation with designers and in-depth research of customer's needs makes PAVEEZZI flooring design unrivaled. The company's offer now includes a wide range of very diverse products – from classic to more avant-garde designs – so that everyone can find something to suit their needs. All this in order to meet the expectations of our customers who value the best design, functionality and the highest quality. That is why our products have been used not only by Australian customers, but also in New Zealand. It is with them in mind that every day we improve our craftsmanship, select the best raw materials and implement modern solutions.

LAYERED FLOORS -

PRODUCTS READY FOR UNDERFLOOR HEATING

A GOOD CHOICE FOR YEARS

Wooden boards and parquet have decorated Australian houses for years. They enchant by their natural beauty and tempt with innovative functionality. Yet, the choice of floor is a decision for years. The answer to the expectations of the most demanding users are finished three-layer wooden floors, such as PAVEEZZI Rovere Piccolo, Enormo and Magnifico which have enjoyed great customer interest for years.

The success of three-layer floors lies in their construction. The top layer, also called noble, which is up to 6 mm thick, is made of oak. The bottom layers is made of durable spruce or plywood. Excellent selection of raw materials and appropriate, perpendicular arrangement of layers in relation to one another allows to minimise the work of wood.

The result is a floor of particular durability and resistance to deformation. Owing to their layered construction, these products are recommended for use on underfloor heating.

Finished three-layered floors have one more unquestionable advantage - they are ready to use almost immediately after installation. This fact, in addition to allowing for substantial time savings, also has a great aesthetic significance

- the preservation of surface, right at the stage of production, guarantees a uniform and an even protective layer.

After years of use, when we want to refresh a wooden surface or add a new glow, it can successfully undergo a sending process. The thickness of the top layer of PAVEEZZI flooring has been selected, so that it can be sanded even several times in the period of a few decades of use. This guarantees a safe restoration of its surface and allows to enjoy the unique beauty of the natural, raw material for many long years.

PAVEEZZI ROVERE ARMONIA

This floor captivates with almost uniform white colour, with slight colour differences. The board will be particularly well presented in spacious, representative interiors.

Combined with simple accessories, it will add them class and natural elegance.

PAVEEZZI ROVERE COLLATTE

This unique floor is a harmonious complement to the loft-like interiors, which we want to add cosiness to. Its unique colour, inspired by the moonlight reflected in the crystalline waters of the alpine Lago di Como, will emphasise the unusual character of avant-garde interiors. The exceptionally large surface of individual elements of the floor makes this board a great proposition for rustic interiors of suburban residences.

PAVEEZZI ROVERE NATURALE

This unique board, which exposes the timeless beauty of oak wood, is an ideal proposition for all lovers of eco-style. Some more knots, visible on its surface, random arrangement of grains and colour differences perfectly emphasise the atmosphere of restored interiors of old tenement houses. This board, used in fun arrangements, will provide them with a unique cosiness.

PAVEEZZI ROVERE DEMETRA

The board constitutes the quint essence of exotic beauty. It is characterised by similar colours of individual elements and a random grain arrangement. The surface is broken by single knots and intermittent sapwood. A subtle, deep shade of walnut makes the floor a perfect match for representative, spacious interiors

PAVEEZZI ROVERE ATLANTIS

Random grain arrangement enriched with large knots creates unique patterns on a floor surface and provides it with a one-of-a-kind design. The delicate, white colour of the floor makes it perfectly composed with shabby chic or Provincial interiors and when combined with, e.g., lavender or pastel colours it will create a unique interior, filled with a peaceful and idyllic ambiance.

PAVEEZZI ROVERE FRANCHESE CR

The dark, almost black, and sometimes graphite shade of this board is enriched by subtle, delicately lighter accents. Combined with classic white, this floor will create a beautiful, minimalist interior.

PAVEEZZI ROVERE NERO

An exclusive board with a very dark colour. It is characterised by a random arrangement of grains, lack of sapwood and occasional knots. The floor is especially recommended for use in large rooms of a distinct character. Deep colour makes it an ideal proposition for people who appreciate sophisticated elegance.

PAVEEZZI ROVERE AIACE

The floor is characterised by wide range of colours and varied grain patterns. Combination of an impressive pattern designs, provides the effect that all lovers of custom arrangements are dreaming about. This oak board in the Classic version will find its use in minimalist Scandinavian style arrangements and add domestic warmth to spacious apartment interiors. It is also possible to combine this floor with marine decor.

PAVEEZZI ROVERE ATTIS

This extremely elegant floor will certainly be a great complement for rustic, minimalist interiors. Its warm, natural colour, enriched by a few small knots, will perfectly highlight the classic white, adding originality and character, where as random grain arrangement gently accentuates the most beautiful features of oakwood. Arranged in interesting and unobtrusive patterns, this board will add light and unique, world-class design.

PAVEEZZI ROVERE INVISIBLE OIL

The floor of unique colour Invisible oil inspired by Italian landscapes. The unique colour, associated with a natural hues of raw oak, makes this board a versatile arrangement solution. The Alabastro shade works well with modern interiors as well as classic, spacious apartments.

IN HARMONY WITH NATURE

Surrounded with lush green forests and clean lakes we are close to nature every day. It inspires us to work. The respect for natural environment and requirements related to its protection are reflected in each stage of the floors production.

RAW MATERIAL ONLY FROM A TRUSTED SOURCE

Keeping in mind the meaning of wood in the environment, we treat it with due respect. The raw material, from which we produce our floors, is almost exclusively the wood from EU forests, where the management is conducted with preserving the constancy of ecosystems, its balanced development and environmental protection. The rest of the materials used to make our floors are exotic species from proven sources.

ECOLOGY CONFIRMED BY CERTIFICATES

The confirmation of our production standards according to the highest world norms of the responsible forest management is the FSC® certificate (Forest Stewardship Council). It is the first and currently the most popular global certification system of forests and wooden products. It is awarded only for the highest quality products that meet the strict standards.

NATURALLY FROM START TO FINISH

We see the environmental concern not only as a choice of the right wood, but also an adequate protection of the finished product. For this purpose we only use lacquers and oils that do not contain solvents or harmful substances. Raw material is always processed to the end. In the high pressure compression of oak and ash sawdust a PDJ briquette is formed - our environmentally friendly alternative to firewood.

ECOLOGICAL LACQUER OR NATURAL OIL

Wooden floors will decorate the interior of our home for many years. The key to their use and care is the choice of the form of preservation on the floor, which you can make at the purchase stage. Our products are covered with eight layers of ecological UV lacquer or three layers of natural oil. Both methods guarantee effective protection and make the floors exceptionally durable. What are the differences and which care product will be more suitable for you? Oil is a mixture of natural oils. The preservation of wooden floor with this product about saturating its surface, which subtly emphasises the structure and colour of the wood and exposes its natural drawing. An indispensable advantage of oil is the possibility of punctual renovation, so it is especially recommended for use in rooms where the floor is more vulnerable to minor damage. This substance does not clog the pores of the wood, contributing to the creation of micro climate in the house.

Composed of pure natural ingredients, it is the ideal solution for people with allergies. Lacquer will be the right choice for those who appreciate comfort and do not want to put extra effort to regular floor maintenance. This substance is extremely practical in everyday use and easy to clean. Traditional painting results in a thin protective layer on the wood surface, but does not allow for local repairs. It provides an excellent protection while underlining its beautiful and stylish look.

COLOUR INSPIRATION

Colour Inspiration is the collection of oak, finished, two-layer floors with colours inspired by the landscapes of Italy - green vineyards of hot Calabria, Tuscan olive groves and sandy beaches of Sardinia. The line will take us on a journey to charming and undiscovered corners of the Italian Peninsula. The products from this family are coloured with natural oil and have some elegance, added during the brushing process. Owing to bevelling, which optically highlights each element of the parquet, the floor is provided with advanced design and dynamics.

CARE GUIDE

DID YOU KNOW THAT...

to enjoy the beauty of the wooden floor, you must immediately remove the dirt, using soft brushes, delicately wiped cloth or spray mop and professional care products - a concentrate for lacquered or oiled PAVEEZZI floors?

FLOORS FOR YEARS

HOW TO TAKE CARE OF PAVEEZZI FLOORS?

Lacquered floor – covered with eight layers of UV-cured acrylic lacquer.

- After the floor installation, it should be preserved with Impregnate for PAVEEZZI lacquered floors. Its aim is to protect the edges and gaps from moisture. This is done by the parquet work crew (at an additional cost) and it is the last stage of the work.
- For the on-going protection, use PAVEEZZI concentrate for cleaning of lacquered floors.

Oiled floor – covered with three layers of oil-wax.

- After placing the floor it is advisable to protect it with Impregnant (care oil) for oiled floors of PAVEEZZI series. Its aim is to protect the edges and gaps from moisture. This is done by the parquet work crew (at an additional cost) and it is the last stage of the work.
- As much as possible, the floor should be “dried” with a microfiber mop. For an on-going “wet” protective care PAVEEZZI concentrate for cleaning of oiled floors or other should be used, as indicated by PAVEEZZI.
- The natural feature of oil-wax floors is the formation of routes, wiping of oil-wax and washing off of hard wax coating. That is why, approximately after 20 washings the surface should be impregnated with care oil a product for oiled floors of PAVEEZZI series or other, indicated by PAVEEZZI.

MAINTAIN CONSTANT AIR HUMIDITY

Wood, due to its mechanical and physical properties, changes its dimensions and shapes as the temperature and relative humidity change. Thus, it is vital to keep the humidity in the room at 45-60 percent. The rooms where the floor will be used should be equipped with a room thermometer, humidity meter and humidifier. These interiors need to be ventilated in the spring and summer, and air humidifiers should be used during the heating period.

STEP 1

MAKE THE RIGHT CHOICE

In order to be able to enjoy the natural qualities of wooden floors for many years, you must not forget to protect their surfaces from damage caused by everyday use. This decision, which you make at the purchase stage, is crucial for the continued use of boards or parquets. PAVEEZZI products are factory-protected in two ways - by eight layers of UV lacquer or three layers of natural oil, a mixture of liquid oils. Both methods provide complete protection and make the products exceptionally durable.

STEP 2

MAINTAIN IT EVERY DAY

Regardless of the preservation methods used, in order to avoid the damages on the surface it is necessary to maintain for the floor during everyday use. To do this, you need to follow some basic rules. Do you know which ones?

- Use soft footwear and secure furniture with special felt coasters.
- Avoid contamination that can scratch a wooden surface, such as sand.
- Remove any dirt using a soft brush and a soft-tip vacuum-cleaner.
- Try to avoid excessive mechanical loads on the floor.
- Make sure the air humidity in the room stays between 45-60%.
- Wipe the floor dry or with a slightly dampened cloth.
- Vacuum the floor with a nozzle for parquet, panels and hard surfaces.
- Remember to remove any dirt (and spills liquids first) as soon as you notice it.
